DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/16/2009 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 and 7-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
5. Claims 1-4 and 7-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mishelevich et al. (USP 5,363,842).

Regarding claim 1, Mishelevich et al. disclose a hand-held dispenser for dispensing a multiplicity of unit products having:

- a first dispenser part (102), comprising a storage area for storing the unit products,
- a second dispenser part, comprising a dispensing module (203) mounted on the storage area,
- an outlet opening (114) through which the unit products are dispensable from the dispenser,
- a dispensing mechanism (242) actuable to dispense the unit products through the outlet opening (114), and
- a timing mechanism (220) adapted in use to time the period since last dispensing of a unit product (see column 5 lines 40-60).

Regarding claim 2, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 in which the timing mechanism (220) is adapted in use to indicate the time since last dispensing.

Regarding claim 3, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 having a display (108) forming part of the timing mechanism on which, in use, the time since last dispensing is graphically indicated thereon.

Regarding claim 4, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 wherein the timing mechanism has a controller programmed with a predetermined dispensing regime for dispensing of the unit products and the controller controls the timing mechanism so that it provides an alert when dispensing of the unit products is required in accordance with the dispensing regime (see column 5 lines 40-60).

Regarding claim 7, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 further having a dispensing indicator (244) for indicating the number of unit products left in, or dispensed-from, the dispenser.

Regarding claim 8, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 7 wherein the dispensing indicator is integrated with the dispenser such that it is automatically updated in response to the dispensing of the unit products therefrom.

Regarding claim 9, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 7 in which the dispensing indicator has a display (108) to indicate the number of unit products left or dispensed.

Regarding claim 10, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 9, in which the dispensing indicator is adapted to represent the number of unit products left or remaining in graphical form on the display (see Figure 1).

Regarding claim 11, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 10, in which the number of unit products is represented with numerical indicia (see column 11 lines 34-41).

Regarding claim 12, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 7 in which the display is an electronic display (see Figure 1).

Regarding claim 13, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 7 wherein the dispensing indicator is an electronic indicator.

Regarding claim 14, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 7 in which the dispensing indicator is a dispensing counter.

Regarding claim 15, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 having the unit products.

Regarding claim 16, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 15 wherein the unit products are pharmaceutical products.

Regarding claim 17, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 16 wherein the pharmaceutical products are oral dosage forms.

Regarding claim 18, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 15 wherein the unit products are pills.

Regarding claim 19, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 in which the dispensing mechanism is adapted to dispense a predetermined number of unit products per actuation.

Regarding claim 20, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 19 wherein the predetermined number is one.

Regarding claim 21, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 wherein the timing mechanism and outlet opening are provided in the second dispenser part attached to the first dispenser part.

Regarding claim 22, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 21 wherein the dispensing mechanism is provided in the second dispenser part.

Regarding claim 23, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 21 wherein the first and second dispenser parts are releasably attached.

Regarding claim 24, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 21 wherein the first dispenser part has an access opening through which the unit products are transferable from the storage area into the second dispenser part and the dispenser has a closure which is selectively connectable with the first and second dispenser parts to respectively close the access opening and the outlet opening (see Figures 1).

Regarding claim 25, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 24 wherein the closure is a cap.

Regarding claim 26, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 24 wherein the closure, on the one hand, and the first and second dispenser parts, on the other hand, have co-operable connecting structures for selectively connecting the closure to the first and second dispenser parts.

Regarding claim 27, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 26 wherein the connecting structures on the first and second dispenser parts are the same.

Regarding claim 28, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 26 wherein the second dispenser part has a further connecting structure which is co-operable with the connecting structure of the first dispenser part which co-operates with the connecting structure of the closure to enable connection of the first and second dispenser parts.

Regarding claim 29, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 claims in which the timing mechanism is operatively coupled to the dispensing mechanism so as to be actuated in response to actuation of the dispensing mechanism.

Regarding claim 30, Mishelevich et al. disclose the dispenser of claim 1 in which the timing mechanism is operatively coupled to a detector adapted to detect the dispensing of a unit product from the dispenser whereby the timing mechanism is actuated in response to the detector detecting dispensing of a unit product.
